

CONTENTS

BEN S. PAULEN: MANAGERIAL PROGRESSIVE By Mary S. Rowland	1
THE MAKING OF A RURAL BOSS: CY LELAND, JR. AND THE DONIPHAN COUNTY RAILROAD BOND DEFAULT BY Robert S. La Forte	17
NDRTH DAKOTA NONINTERVENTIONISTS AND CORPORATE CULTURE By David A. Horowitz	30

CONTRIBUTORS

Mary S. Rowland is Assistant Provost of Washburn University in Topeka, Kansas. Dr. Rowland's principal research interest is twentieth century Kansas. Her dissertation topic was "Managerial Progressivism in Kansas, 1916-1930." Recently accepted for publication in Kansas History, is an article, "Social Service Delivery in Kansas."

Robert S. La Forte is Professor of History and University Archivist at North Texas State University. Author of Leaders of Reform: Progressive Republicans in Kansas, Professor La Forte is currently doing additional research in the life of Cy Leland, Jr., and recently published, "Middletown Looks at the Lynds," in the Indiana Magazine of History.

David A. Horowitz is Associate Professor of American Cultural History at Portland State University in Oregon. He is co-author of Twentieth Century Limited: A History of Recent America. A recent essay on "The Perils of Western Farm Politics: Herbert Hoover, Gerald P. Nye and Agricultural Reform, 1926-1932," will be published in the North Dakota Quarterly, and will also appear in an anthology to be published by the University Press of America.